

General/Body Imager w/ Mammo MQSA – Whidbey Island, Washington

[Specific to each position]

Radia is looking for a General/Body Imager with mammography MQSA to be based at WhidbeyHealth Medical Center on Whidbey Island. We are seeking candidates with broad diagnostic and procedural skills including general fluoroscopy, port checks, US-guided procedures, joint injections, feeding tube placement, obstetrical ultrasound, and all aspects of breast imaging to include invasive procedures.

This employed position is 22 weeks/year.

WhidbeyHealth Medical Center is a 25-bed critical access hospital and offers the local community access to fully digital diagnostic imaging right in their neighborhood. An innovative partnership between WhidbeyHealth and a major OEM (the first of its kind to be implemented in the United States) provides an exciting opportunity for equipment replacement and enhanced community interaction. Patients get access to state-of-the-art imaging equipment and innovative treatment options that are expanding as needs are identified.

As part of Radia, this opportunity provides access to all of the accoutrements that a well-established, innovative physician-led practice can offer, including access to 24/7 subspecialty coverage, centralized after-hours diagnostic coverage, a 3D lab for advanced post processing, and support through our distributed reading network.

[General Job requirements]

Radia is looking for candidates who possess the following essential characteristics: exceptional diagnostic skills and technical competence, and a desire to work for the good of the practice. Respect across the entire spectrum of individuals with whom we interact is a must.

[About us]

Radia is one of the most progressive and rapidly growing radiology groups in the nation, and the largest 100% physician owned and operated practice. Our team of nearly 200 board-certified radiologists, with specialty training in everything from Mammography to Neuroradiology and Musculoskeletal to Interventional, provides more than 50 hospital and specialty clinic partners throughout the Northwest with on-site radiology coverage and interpretations.

We have a robust financial package including 401k with employer matching funds, profit sharing, competitive salaries, and expense packages for continuing medical education. We provide a mentoring program to support and promote professional acuity and leadership skills.

[Location]

The city of Coupeville, Washington is located on Whidbey Island, 2-3 hours northwest of downtown Seattle. Coupeville and Central Whidbey Island offer peaceful landscapes and opportunities for lots of outdoor activities including biking, hiking and kayaking. Island County inspires local arts, top chefs, farmer's markets and wineries.
